Legislators portion out Hancock gaming revenues

BY JACQUI COCHRAN
A local and private bill, requested by the county board of supervisors to govern gaming revenue collection, may end up dictating how those revenues are spent.

House Bill 1633 was introduced by Rep. J.P. Compretta for the purpose of substituting a percentage fee in lieu of a per person boarding fee as required by the state gaming law.

Prior to the bill's passage in the House, Rep. Harry Frierson added an amendment from the floor, designating spending of those revenues.

The amendment by Frierson requires gaming revenues be divided as follows: 20 percent each to the Sheriff's Department (vehicles and equipment), county school district and towards the reduction of ad valorem taxes; 10 percent to be divided between all county fire districts; and the remaining 30 percent to the county general fund.

Senator Bill Johnson reported Wednesday, he would support the bill, although there would be some language changes made prior to Senate introduction.

He stated, the changes will remove designations of "general" fund from the county's allotment and "on vehicles and equipment" from the Sheriff's Dept.

"The wording limits what the Sheriff's Department and county can do with the money," he explained.

"What if the Sheriff's Department buys all the vehicles and equipment it needs...what if the county needs some of its 30 percent for roads and bridges and by law cannot use general funds for that purpose?"

Another change will address the 20 percent designated for the county school district. Though there are no words specifying spending areas, Johnson intends to change the wording to include "...for educational and related purposes and county libraries."

Sheriff's Department Chief Deputy Delbert Seay stated, "Ronnie (Sheriff Peterson) is 100 percent behind the bill."

Seay added that Peterson had requested the words, "...and personnel," be added to the spending designation for the department.

Johnson said he plans to word the designation to read, "...for all lawful expenditures," thereby eliminating the specifics.

Board president Mike Lader stated, he was displeased with the amendment added by Frierson. "He should have allowed the county to make

Waveland eyes revenue reorganization

BY LIZ HAAS
Some 18 years ago, the city of Waveland designed its operational costs so that revenues from the utility systems funds were used to support general expenditures.

This was done to ease the citizens' tax burden, with the intent that when the funds were depleted, alternative money sources would need to be developed.

The city generates $300,000 in property taxes and has made up for the lack in general funds by borrowing from the utility funds.

"We feel like the utility systems funds will not completely support the city," said Steve Dockens of Moore & Powell CPA.

"Within the next two to three years the city will need an additional $300,000 a year to maintain all city services," said Dockens, who gave the city's annual financial report Tuesday.

"This didn't happen overnight. By design it was supposed to happen one day, because we did not have a good tax base in the county and wanted to offer our citizens a break," said Mayor Stella Frilot. "We can't wait two or three years from now to implement alternative money sources, because it should have been done previously."

"Previous administrations have not done anything to offset this," said Dockens.

"For over 18 years the citizens of Waveland have enjoyed a low

Hospitals seek co. business

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Hancock Medical Center and Memorial Hospital of Gulfport offered county workers cost discounts Thursday in an attempt to increase local patronage.

HMC administrator Don Henderson and Memorial Hospital chief financial officer Gary Marchand claimed their hospitals have lower costs than New Orleans, Slidell and Jackson County areas.

They added the addition of a Preferred Provider Organization (PPO) option to the county's health insurance plan could reduce employee costs to 10 percent compared to the present 20 percent.

The PPO option would increase insurance coverage to employees who use physicians listed with either HMC or Memorial.

Should an employee not choose a PPO listed physician, insurance coverage would remain at the current percentage of coverage.

Board members expressed concern for those employees who prefer physicians not practicing at HMC or Memorial.

Chancery Clerk Mike Necaise stated, "Take for example my good buddy Gerald Gex (county attorney), who is comfortable with his doctors and hospitals."

"Couldn't we grandfather (clause) those people who have had illnesses (pre-existing conditions)?"

Necaise said he estimated maybe 10 of the 170 employees participating in the county insurance plan have pre-existing conditions under the care of physicians not listed as preferred providers.

Under the proposed PPO plan, employees selecting physicians from HMC and Memorial would pay a $300 deductible and 10 percent of all costs.

In addition the two hospitals offered reductions in overall costs should the county go along with the PPO plan.

The current plan incorporates a $500 deductible and 20 percent cost to the employee.

Board members said they would present the proposal to county employees.

Haas resigns as Youth Court judge

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Youth Court Judge Michael D. Haas resigned his appointment of 30 years Friday, claiming time constraints and family obligations as reasons for his decision.

On Monday, Bay St. Louis attorney Ann Williamson, 65, was appointed to the county bench.

Senior Chancery Court Judge William L. Stewart said, "He (Haas) has been over there so long, and he has done a marvelous job...to my knowledge he just asked to be released from his duties."

Haas stated, "The position was getting too time consuming along with my law practice, and still with obligations to a large family, it was impossible to do justice to myself and my family."

"I am still dedicated to the Juvenile Justice program and I wish Judge Ann Williamson the best of luck and congratulate her, as she is very deserving."

Williamson has been a youth court public defender for over four years.

ST. ANN AND ST. JOHN NEWS

Thoughts for meditation:
 When God measures a person
 He puts tape around his heart and not his head.

As water reflects a face, so a man's heart reflects the man.
 Proverbs 27:19

All a man's ways seem right to him, but the Lord weighs the heart. To do what is right and just is more acceptable to the Lord than sacrifice.

Proverbs 21:2-3
 Though you may ask God to do something for you, He generally wants to do something in you.

Search me, O God, and know my heart; test me and know my anxious thoughts. See if there is any offensive way in me and lead me in the way everlasting.
 Psalm 139:23-24

The refiner is never very far from the mouth of the furnace when his gold is in the fire.
 "... I will refine them like silver and test them like gold.
 They will call my name and I will answer them; I will say, they are my people, and they will say, 'The Lord is our God.'

Although salvation is a free gift, we sometimes forget that we still must work for it.
 For God so loved the world that He gave His one and only Son, that whosoever believes in Him shall not perish but have eternal life.

PUBLIC HEARING NOTICE

The City of Waveland is considering applying to the Mississippi Department of Economic and Community Development for a Small Cities Community Development Block Grant through the Urgent Needs Category. The State of Mississippi has been awarded a 1993 allocation of $36,097,000 which will be made available to cities and counties on a competitive basis to undertake eligible community development activities; a limited amount of 1992 CDBG funds also is available. These funds must be used for one of the following purposes:

- 1) To benefit low and moderate income persons; or
- 2) To aid in the prevention or elimination of slums or blight; or
- 3) To meet other community development needs having a particular urgency because existing conditions pose a threat to the health and welfare of the community where other financial resources are not available to meet such needs.

More specific details regarding eligible activities, program requirements, the rating system as well as the proposed urgent needs project will be provided at a public hearing which will be held in the Board Room of Waveland City Hall on Wednesday, March 31, 1993 at 2:00 p.m. The purpose of this hearing will be to obtain citizen input into the development of a CDBG application to fund the relocation of the City's high-pressure gas line to allow for Highway 43 expansion.

Written comments concerning the proposed application may be submitted until 5:00 p.m., April 7, 1993 at Waveland City Hall or may be mailed to the City of Waveland at Post Office Box 320, Waveland, MS 39576.

A second hearing has been scheduled for 5:30 p.m., Thursday, April 8, 1993, also in the Board Room of City Hall, to provide another opportunity for citizens to obtain information about the CDBG application and to provide input concerning the proposed project. All comments offered at the public hearing and in writing will be considered by the City administration in developing the proposed CDBG urgent needs application. All citizens are invited to attend either or both hearings.

HORSE ARENA

Gex was instructed to write a resolution supporting a local and private bill to establish a thoroughbred and quarter-horse training track and horse show arena, to be supervised by a commission.

REHIRING

Road and Bridge supervisor Sam Cuevas reported former assistant supervisor Tommy Moran has requested to be rehired by the county.

Moran resigned from his position shortly after Cuevas was re-assigned to sole management of road crews.

Moran was then given supervision of landfill, beach and grounds crews for the county department.

Since that time, county administrator and Chancery Clerk Mike Necaise was assigned as manager of beach and grounds crews, while Otis "Curly" Lewis was assigned as landfill foreman.

Necaise stated he would like to see Moran return, as he was unable to properly supervise beach and grounds crews along with performing his other duties.

He added the new arrangement is not effectively working out as planned.

District 3 supervisor Howard Lizana expressed concern for the shifting of job responsibilities, re-assigned following Moran's resignation.

Lizana questioned Necaise for more specifics on what Necaise termed "not effective."

Board members said they would speak with the employees for further input prior to making a decision.

District 1 supervisor Robert Peterson and District 5 supervisor Mike Ladrner expressed support for Moran's return.

Peterson said he felt with the sand beach project pending he would prefer to see someone with Moran's experience in charge.

District 4 supervisor Wilmer Seymour stated, "There'll be a lot of undoing we'll have to do...I'll have to discuss it with Mike (Necaise)."

LANDFILL

Lewis reported the recent break down of a 855 dozer, presently being repaired at an estimated cost of $10,000 to the county.

He requested the use of a road department dozer until repairs are completed. He added, he felt the machine break down was caused by an employee unfamiliar with its operation.

Lewis explained the recent injury of the only employee familiar with the dozer forced another employee to operate the machine.

The board suggested that Lewis hire a part-time employee trained to operate the dozer.

ROADS

Cuevas informed board members that county crews would begin ditch preparation for the laying of gravel upon designated roads shortly.

He stated, following a January inspection of all county roads by board members, he was preparing a list of roads to receive priority consideration.

OTHER BUSINESS

Cuevas, Port and Harbor executive director Harold "Buz" Olsen and Parks Commission chairman A.L. Franklin presented lists of desired equipment presently being inventoried by the defunct tri-county Mosquito Commission.

Olsen said representatives of Harrison and Jackson counties are claiming to be first in line to purchase items.

Board members said they would do what they could to procure for Moran's return.

Commission approves $439,000 bid for roadway improvements

BY LIZ HAAS

The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission accepted a Necaise Construction Co. of Gulfport bid of $439,353 for roadway improvements to Port Bienville Industrial Park in a Monday meeting.

Upon the recommendation of Cortech Inc. engineer Carlos Cordon the board approved the base bid from Necaise Construction amounting to $405,814, with additional work on Road "D" at $33,539.

"We have some units in the bid that may not be implemented, but Necaise would still be the lowest bidder," said Cordon.

The commission approved the submission to the Federal Aviation Administration of an affirmative action program for Stennis Airport dealing with disadvantaged business enterprises.

A resolution was approved by the commission to authorize the deed pay-off for Con-Tech Power Systems in Port Bienville Industrial Park.

"He's (Harold Thibodeaux) ready to deduct his lease-purchase payments," said Buzz Olson, Port and Harbor Commission executive director.

"His pay-out will amount to approximately $78,000 after he pays off February and March," according to commission attorney Robert Genin.

"The commission will deliver to him a deed upon the payment," said Dave McDonald, commission president.

The commission accepted the quote from Con-Tech Power Systems on electrical panel work for Ryan Marine at a cost of $19,740 to bring the panels up to code.

Commissioner Omer DeBever will ask Con-Tech for a cost estimate for an electrical diagram of the underground circuits in this area.

those designations.

"We would have gone along and given each of them their fair share," he said. "If they are going to do our (supervisors) jobs, let them come down here and we can go on home."

District 3 supervisor Howard Lizana stated he also has a problem with Frierson not consulting with the board prior to making his amendment to the bill.

"We attended budget hearings last October in Jackson for two weeks," he explained. "We know where the money is most needed.

"We were going to distribute the monies ourselves, and Rep. Frierson does not know a thing about our budget."

"We have to build an office for the superintendent of education; we are over our garbage budget now; there is new road equipment to be purchased; a detention center to be built; and then there is the wastewater problem."

"He just cut up the pie where he didn't know it needed cutting."

Rep. J.P. Compretta said the amount designations were about average with other bills, such as those passed affecting Gulfport, Biloxi and D'Iberville.

Johnson expressed confidence that the bill will be passed in the Senate.

"He added, from the Senate the bill will return to the House for approval. Without passage by the House, the bill enters conference where it could again undergo changes.

Stephen E. Ambrose, a noted historian and author at the University of New Orleans, has been named to receive the 1993 books on Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Stephen E. Ambrose

The Nixon trilogy's final volume, "Ruin and Recovery of a Politician," appeared in 1991. It covered Nixon's career from 1973 to 1990.

In addition to its analysis of the Watergate scandal, it disclosed that after Nixon resigned the presidency in 1974, he and associates such as John Mitchell and Spiro Agnew had business dealings with Iraqi strongman Saddam Hussein and Romanian dictator Nicolae Ceausescu.

The book also revealed how Nixon finally achieved financial security by selling his Manhattan townhouse at a huge profit in 1981 to the Syrian government.

A review of "Ruin and Recovery" in The New York Times said, "By putting it all together, Mr. Ambrose gives the events of Watergate a fresh coherence. He illuminates as never before just what happened in Watergate, which may have been trivial in its substance but was horrendous in the shadows it cast."

His most recent book, "Band of Brothers," departs from his earlier focus on major historical figures. It is an account of World War II exploits of an ordinary combat unit, Company E of the 506th Parachute Infantry Regiment, 101st Airborne Division.

The unit fought at the D-Day invasion, the Battle of the Bulge and Berchtesgaden, Hitler's heavily defended mountain retreat. "Band of Brothers," published in 1992, was described in The New York Times as "harrowing... Mr. Ambrose has captured the true essence of a rifle company."

Also in 1992, he turned his attention to John F. Kennedy's assassination. In The New York Times Book Review, he analyzed the many conspiracy theories about the killing, most recently the controversial Oliver Stone film "JFK."

Ambrose debunked as inherently absurd Stone's theory that the Mafia, corporate executives and numerous agents of the U.S. government conspired to murder Kennedy.

However, Ambrose noted the sound reasons for disbelieving the official lone-gunner explanation, and called for a new presidential commission to re-examine the assassination.

He wrote, "The crime of the century is too important... to remain unsolved and too complex to be left in the hands of Hollywood movie makers."

Ambrose has taught at UNO since 1971, after stints at Kansas State University, the Naval War College and Johns Hopkins University. He holds a doctorate from the University of Wisconsin.

Ambrose is the second winner of the Ireland Visiting Scholar Prize. The first was Martha Nussbaum, a classics scholar and philosopher from Brown University, who visited the UAB campus in early 1992.

tax base," according to Dockens. "I'm not saying that we have a critical situation, but we need to look at alternatives because the city is starting to eat into its retained earnings."

Auditors suggest the city consider four alternatives they designed, including:

—Increase the city tax millage. According to law, tax collections may increase by 10 percent per year.

—Based on the current tax base, this would only increase general revenues approximately $30,000 a year, according to the report from Moore & Powell.

—Charge citizens for garbage collection, which is currently not done.

—A study conducted on this matter showed that about $207,000 a year could be generated from collecting for this service," said Dockens.

—Paying for the general obligation bond (Water & Gas) with the tax millage.

Dockens said, "The city has opted in the past to pay for it out of the utility funds. There is also some excess money already available in the Debt Service Funds which could be utilized for this matter."

—Freeze new spending or cut existing spending.

"These are things you may want to begin to consider because you can't continue to rely on those funds to be there," said Dockens.

Dockens said this is something the city needs to plan for now because if Hancock County keeps growing as it has in the past six months, the city is going to need it.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

It was sure good to see the volunteers and city workers busy Saturday starting the major task of cleaning up the old Bay St. Louis Depot grounds, even though it was raining a bit.

As a youngster and student at The Back School, (Rip University), I can remember the days when the vast grounds around the depot were constantly manicured.

Those were the days when the power used to propel the mowers was muscle, as gasoline mowers were very scarce.

There are those who are offering help with the cleanup of the depot grounds, and I am happy to see the volunteers.

I will be keeping an eye out for the progress of the depot's grounds.

Many of us are awaiting the restart of passenger service in Bay St. Louis in April.

There were those of us who saw passenger service come to Bay St. Louis for the New Orleans World Fair and then discontinue. The feeling was the service would never return.

A big celebration is scheduled for next Wednesday morning at the Bay St. Louis Depot. It is scheduled for around 10:15 a.m. with the arrival of Amtrak's Sunset Limited on a trial run.

It will mark America's first transcontinental train, as Amtrak extends its Sunset Limited coast to coast from Los Angeles to Miami.

I hope to see you there.

Do not forget the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Morning Edition set for 7:30 a.m. Friday morning at the Mississippi Power Company's Auditorium, Highway 90 at Dunbar, Bay St. Louis.

Sponsor is the Gulf Coast Private Industry Council/Gulf Coast Business Services, with Myrna Bourgeois, Hancock County superintendent of education.

Bicycles appear to be getting more use in our community.

Young and old can be seen about town riding on bikes and some even at night.

As a safety precaution, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Bay St. Louis Police Department are sponsoring a Lite A Bike Day.

On Saturday, March 27, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Lt. Don Ocho, Bay Police Crime Prevention officer and VFW veterans will register, inspect and install safety reflector tape on all bicycles delivered to the post home at 343 Third St., Bay St. Louis.

Reflectors and reflector tape really help motorists recognize bicycle riders at night, especially when traffic is heavy.

I need not mention the increase of traffic during the past six months or so in the area.

If you own a bicycle, I would suggest to stop by the VFW post to have your 'wheel' checked, as everything is free.

By the way, by registering your bicycle, in case it is stolen, strayed, or lost, this could help in recovery.

The delivery of 14-gallon burgundy plastic containers for recycling in Bay St. Louis starts today and continues through March 30.

Recycling is to start on April 1 in Bay St. Louis, as most of you know.

Gulf Coast Recycling, when delivering the recycling containers, will also provide an information packet containing a service calendar and instructions for correctly using the containers.

Some 100 block captains have already been trained to visit residents to distribute a curbside recycling brochure to each household.

There are several streets in need of block captains, and if you are interested, give Paige Carter a call at 467-9268.

Bay St. Louis has been divided into five sections by Gulf Coast Recycling and will collect the recyclables once a week on a designated day in each section. Smaller households may only need to set their containers out once or twice a month, when it is full.

If you reside in Bay St. Louis and you have not as yet received your container after March 30, give a call to Gulf Coast Recycling at 467-9268.

Remember, Waste Management will continue its garbage collections on regular schedules in Bay St. Louis.

FROM THE SENATE

By Senator Trent Lott

Crime and older Americans

One of the most disturbing aspects of increases in crime is the dramatic growth of crime against older Americans. For example, the heinous crime of abuse against seniors has risen by 94 percent over the last five years.

That is totally unacceptable. Safety and security are rights owed to all Americans. But, the elderly are rapidly losing this right to feel and be safe when in their own homes.

In an effort to respond to this growing threat, I have co-authored legislation to provide a new weapon aimed at reducing the number of crimes against seniors.

This bi-partisan bill — the National Triad Act of 1993 — is designed to address the problems of abuse, neglect, violence, property crime, consumer fraud, medical quackery and scams against seniors.

"Triad" evolved from a cooperative effort among the American Association of Retired Persons, the International Association of Chiefs of Police and the National Sheriff's Association. In 1987, these groups began with a commitment to work together to reduce both actual criminal victimization and the fear of crime that plagues senior citizens.

The great successes of this alliance encouraged me to help create a program that could spread the Triad concept to as many communities as possible. Currently, 70 communities have some form of Triad program.

The legislation would provide $6 million over the next year to pay for technical assistance programs, public service announcements, a national assessment and 50 pilot programs to combat crime.

The Triad Bill of 1993 would direct the National Institute of Justice to work with the Bureau of Justice Assistance, which would award grants to coalitions of local law enforcement, victim service providers and organizations representing the elderly to fund up to 50 Triad-style programs. The NIJ also would conduct a national assessment of the nature and extent of crimes against the elderly.

This program, while simple in design, can go a long way toward making our communities and our country safer for all old.

NATIONAL TRIAD ACT

Authorizes the following funding:

- $2 million to set up 50 pilot programs
- $1 million for national training & technical assistance
- $1 million for developing public service campaign
- $2 million for assessment & evaluation of the pilots er Americans. Currently, Adams County is the only Mississippi community in the program, but others are planned.

I strongly encourage seniors' groups and law enforcement officials to organize and develop these low- to no-cost Triad programs throughout Mississippi. I stand ready to help in any way that I can.

Something must be done to protect our seniors, and it must be done now. I believe the National Triad Act of 1993 is an important first step toward that end.

EYES ON MISSISSIPPI

Democratic caucus formed in state Senate

There are those rare moments in the Mississippi Legislature when you realize something historic is happening. I was a witness to one such historic happening last week in a Senate committee room.

For the first time in Mississippi legislative history, Democratic senators met and took initial steps towards formally organizing a party caucus in the state Senate as a party force to counter the growing Republican presence in the Legislature.

To the great surprise of Legislative observers, 27 of 39 Democrats in the Senate showed up at the initial caucus, responding to the low-keyed invitation of Sen. W. L. Rayborn of Brookhaven, a rustic 14-year legislative veteran who has never assumed such a focal role before.

Admittedly, Rayborn had no real idea how many of fellow Democrats would attend the caucus. "I was thinking more like 10 to 15, so I was amazed to see as many as we had, particularly on a beautiful sunny afternoon when members wanted to get away from the Capitol," he said later.

Twenty-five of the Democratic senators stayed throughout the hour and a half session, engaging in a sort of political dialogue about becoming identified with traditional Democratic issues that has never been heard before around the state Capitol.

Here were a number of lawmakers virtually "coming out of the closet" to unabashedly become Democratic partisans. "I'm ready for Democrats to be Democrats," said Sen. Terry Jordan of Philadelphia. "I don't want any boll weevils."

Sen. Hannon Miller of Greenville, who has spent more than 20 years in legislative service both in the House and Senate, contended that the Democratic Party "has always shirked its responsibilities in not taking the leadership. We're just now waking up to that fact after we've gotten a Republican governor and Republican lieutenant governor."

A Senate Democratic Caucus with 27 members would represent a majority of the 52-member Senate. Additional commitments from other Democratic senators to join the caucus which Rayborn said came in after the success of the original session assured at least 30 senators will be in the group.

The potential of such a majority voting bloc is unprecedented in terms of party lines in the Legislature. The only comparable body of votes ever assembled around the Mississippi statehouse was the "Sill-ers Caucus" of House Speaker Walter Sillers in the latter 1950s.

Sillers, an arch-conservative Democrat who had been a leader in the 1948 Dixiecrat movement, organized his House forces into a secret caucus which met in a Jackson hotel to plan their legislative agenda in thwarting the legislative program of moderate Gov. J. P. Coleman.

It's conceivable now that the new Senate Democratic Caucus could take control of the Senate rules and strip Republican Lt. Gov. Eddie Briggs' powers over the Senate committee system and control the legislative agenda.

Too, the caucus will likely pick the President Pro Tempore in the future.

The fact that Sen. Pud Graham of New Albany, the Pro Tem narrowly elected over Terry Jordan in January, refused to take part in the initiation of the Democratic caucus and later openly denounced the idea, sent a wave of negative reaction through the newly organized caucus.

Immediately after the new Democratic group took on the definite look of a formidable threat to him, Briggs began huddling with some of his top lieutenants, which includes several key Democrats who boycotted the caucus organization, to plot a strategy to keep it from getting off the ground.

Recognition that a significant new political force is emerging in the Senate has come, on less, from the "third house"—the lobbyists—who have already begun to court the caucus leaders.

Rather wisely, the caucus plans to use no pressure on any reluctant Democratic senators, nor to appear as a threat to the Black Caucus, which in the beginning, is helping to give birth to the new Democratic bloc.

Regular weekly meetings of the Democratic Caucus were set to start this Monday, and on the agenda is the naming of a Democratic majority leader and creation of a budget committee. Already, the group, through former Gov. William Winter, is establishing contact with President Clinton and the National Democratic Committee.

On tap is a plan to send a caucus delegation to Washington to make a plea for the huge Defense Department Accounting facility which seemed destined to come to Jackson until recently sidetracked. Said Rayborn: "We want the Clinton Administration to know we're in business down here."

Thriffley seeks 5th term in Ward Two council race

James C. "Jim" Thriffley III, president of the Bay St. Louis City Council, is seeking his fifth term as Ward Two councilman.

Thriffley has been a member of the St. Stanislaus High School faculty for 27 years.

He is an independent insurance agent who also holds an NASD license as a security dealer. He served as the Hancock County representative on the Pearl River Community Board of Trustees for 10 years. He presently serves on the board of directors of the Pearl River Community College Development Foundation.

He was elected by the member cities of the Mississippi Municipal Association to represent the Gulf Coast as a member of the board of directors of the association's liability pool where he served for five years. Thriffley holds a BA from SLU and a master's of education from Loyola University of Due Council 1522, Our Lady of the Gulf Church, the Mississippi Association of Physicians, and the Mississippi Personnel and Guidance Association.

Thriffley has resided at 118 Bay View Court for the past 27 years with his wife, the former Jean Ann English, and their three sons, James IV, Todd and Tate.

He stated, "As councilman, I have served with 13 councilmen, three mayors and four city clerks. My purpose in city government is to maintain, to improve and to protect the quality of life in Bay St. Louis."

"During my terms, sewerage has been provided to all homes in District Two. I have opposed spot zoning. I believe that government should be fair and just to all persons regardless of financial standing."

"I back the school system and I endorse the work of these fine people."

"Road construction, maintenance and drainage are always a priority as are strong law enforcement and the continued development of the recreation department, along with various improvement projects in Ward Two and throughout the city."

"Due to proper planning and administration over the years, we have been able to reduce the taxes on all property in Bay St. Louis by 25 mills."

"This same reduction has caused the price of an auto tag in our city to drop approximately 25 percent below its cost last year. During the past three years, we have been able to give the citizens of Bay St. Louis the added savings of three utility rate decreases."

The new recycling program begins April 1 with Gulf Coast Recycling. This service will also be provided to the residents of Bay St. Louis at no charge whatsoever. In addition to these savings, we were able to secure the Peoples Federal building as the new City Hall annex in order to satisfy the regulations of the Americans with Disabilities Act. This facility offers us a modern structure that is handicapped accessible, has a large bank vault, a night depository for utility bills, and a drive-up window that allows business transactions to be completed conveniently regardless of the weather.

"At this time in Bay St. Louis, we have the best trained and educated police department and fire department in the history of our city. The public works crews and office personnel are the most productive and efficient of any group that have ever been here."

"These dedicated and selfless individuals are doing an excellent job under outstanding supervision. They all take pride in their work and it shows."

"I am proud to have been instrumental in the effort to provide these folks with decent fringe benefits and a living wage. I am grateful for their presence and efforts."

"In the future I will continue to promote the business district and the efforts of the business associations and the chamber of commerce. During my tenure in office, the city has experienced organized planned growth designed to benefit the people."

"I assure everyone that this will be the rule followed by me in the future. With the acquisition of the train depot and the development of that area, downtown will further be stimulated."

"The Main Street program is growing, and the establishment of a low interest loan pool with local banks will provide an opportunity for the growth of local businesses and seed money for the establishment of new ones."

"I welcome the public to call me to discuss their needs and opinions of the city."

FORGERY

The Hancock County Sheriff's Investigator Matt Karl reported the Friday arrest of a Diamondhead resident on charges of forgery, receiving stolen property and the growing and cultivating of marijuana.

Karl said, Sergeant George Burleson went to the home of Elizabeth Ann Schuessler, 40, 85135 Diamondhead Drive West, Diamondhead, approximately at 1:30 p.m. to serve an arrest warrant in connection with bad checks.

While at the house he received permission by Schuessler for search of the premises, discovering the item in question, a machine used in the placing of aluminum siding.

Burleson also found a small amount of marijuana bushes growing inside and outside of the premises.

Karl stated Schuessler was charged with seven counts of uttering forgery, receiving stolen property and growing and cultivating marijuana.

He added that she was taken to the Hancock County Justice Facility where she bonded out on a $17,000 attachment.

He said the case was still under investigation.

The church is located at 248 Sycamore Street. At noon, there will be a meeting of the church leaders in which they will discuss the ways and means Christian churches can help provide a positive, healthy environment for the citizens of Hancock County.

The meeting is hosted by the Ministers and Wives Association of Hancock County.

IN AND AROUND DIAMONDHEAD

By Margaret Williamson

WELCOMING EASTER

If you have purchased your tickets for either the 3 p.m. or 7:30 p.m. performances of the Bay Area Chorale's premier of Handel's "Messiah" on Saturday, March 27, you're in for a wonderful treat. The chorale is composed of marvelous voices (I'm so pleased to be one) from all over Coast under the excellent direction of Joy Merhtens, combined with the superb Jefferson, Louisiana Symphony, conducted by Dennis Assaf, will welcome in the Easter season in great style.

The Diamondhead Performing Arts Society is proud to offer this special event "add on" to their season ticket holders. Individual tickets are still available at $12.50 adults (includes a cocktail) each.

Call Carol Novak at 255-6041 for information. You don't want to miss this musical extravaganza. The new chorale group has chosen for its first officer George Watkins from Diamondhead, president; Conrad Howe from Bay St. Louis, vice president; Virginia Laugen of Diamondhead, secretary-music librarian; and Margaret Williamson from Diamondhead, treasurer.

Everyone wishes all those involved in this tremendous endeavor much success in their first presentation and future productions.

Special thanks to Joy and her crew of leaders, etc., to Curtis Stout for his organization and participation, and to the Diamondhead Performing Arts Society.

PILGRIMAGE

By the time you read this column, the Mississippi Gulf Coast's 46th annual Garden Club Spring Pilgrimage will be well under way.

The Diamondhead Garden Club's flower show was at the Community Center Tuesday, so guests starting the Diamondhead Pilgrimage there on Wednesday were able to view the innovative ways that the members interpreted the show's theme, "By the Sea" in their arrangements.

The other plants, cuttings and flowers on display had their winning ribbons that identified the entries and the growers.

On the tour was the beautiful Diamondhead Community Church, whose new building seats 290 encircling the pulpit in a 180 degree arc, allowing a feeling of closeness with the minister.

The gardens of Ray and Doris Hope at 7810 Loa Place provided an attraction and haven for many species of birds, including special plants for hummingbirds.

The traditional home of Tom and Sally McCormick at 7629 Fairway Drive, decorated in teal and mauve, was designed by Tom with open casual living in mind.

DIAMONDHEAD GOLF

Moving the golf shop and the "19th hole" into an area in the Diamondhead Country Club has been done with very little disruption. The staff, Katherine, John and Phil Hill (pro) welcome you to come by and check out the new spring lines which have just arrived.

Phil would like to remind those who have to cancel a tee time to please do so ASAP.

Tee times are in demand, and there is a waiting list for those without tee times to try and accommodate everyone. Also, no mulligans at anytime. This slows up play. If you need to warm up, the practice area is available to all. Great golfing, everyone!

I-10 CLEANUP

The Diamondhead Business and Professional Association asks all who can be at the Dairy Queen Saturday, March 27, 7:30 a.m. and give some time "to make our front door look better."

An hour of your time will be most welcome. A special thank-you goes out to Mary Kipping of Corporate Cheer for hosting the After Hours get-together on March 16 in her lovely shop, despite the bad weather.

Remember the Diamondhead B & P Association motto, "You cannot climb the ladder of success with your hands in your pocket." Get involved and make a difference in your community.

Youth club formed in Diamondhead

Diamondhead Youth Club has organized to plan activities for those up to age 21 in the community.

According to president Kelly Jordan, the club is trying to raise funds to purchase recreation equipment, including pool tables, arcade games, ping pong tables, etc., as well as developing playing fields for various outdoor sports.

The club meets Monday nights at 6 at the Diamondhead Baptist Church youth building, with all meetings open to the public except the last meeting of the month.

A dance at Diamondhead Days Inn is planned for April 28 from 7 until 11 p.m.

The group is currently collecting food items to be donated to the Hancock County Food Pantry.

A bake sale and car wash is set for April 3-4.

Other officers include Adam Dardar, vice president; Kathryn Hudson, secretary; Maritza Cruz, reporter; and Rodney Dungun, treasurer.

Sponsoring the teenagers is the Diamondhead Youth Organization.

St. Thomas announces Lenten worship services

St. Thomas Episcopal Church, 5303 Diamondhead Circle, invites the community to its services during the Lenten season.

St. Thomas offers two services on Sunday mornings at 8 and 10:30 and on Wednesday at 12:30 and 7 p.m.

The Way of the Cross is offered on Fridays at 12:30 and 7 p.m.

St. Thomas also offers "Spiritual Quest," a 14-week program in Christian spirituality that can be taken on an individual basis or with a group. Sunday School is at 9:15 for all ages.

MILITARY MENTION

LCDR M.E. KENNEDY, Diamondhead resident, LCDR Michael E. Kennedy was recently awarded the Joint Service Achievement Medal for his outstanding performance from August 24 to September 11, 1992 while performing his annual AT at the Atlantic Intelligence Command (AIC), Norfolk, Virg.

While there, LCDR Kennedy served as Special Projects officer during Exercise Eligible Receiver 92-1. His accomplishments included the development of an Intelligence Crisis Action Team Rapid Response package and Standard Operating Procedures (SOP). He also consolidated several intelligence watch SOPs into a single SOP now in use at the AIC.

For these outstanding accomplishments, LCDR Kennedy was presented the Joint Service Achievement Medal on February 6, 1993 at an awards ceremony held in the Magnolia Terrace by J.U. Liles, Commanding Officer, Atlantic Intelligence Command.

Bay Area Chorale performs Saturday

DIAMONDHEAD ROTARY

The Diamondhead Rotary, a very active, busy group of business and professionals, meets every Thursday at noon at the Day's Inn. These Rotarians and their guests celebrated the club's third anniversary with a steak dinner at the Diamondhead Country Club March 1. I'm sure the late Al LeBreton would have said, "Good job, everyone."

Spring with their soft and gentle breezes, when winter-time is past and gone with all the frosts and freezes.

The catalogs of seeds and plants, the postman now delivers, and fishermen will soon be seen along the lakes and rivers.

The summertime will soon be here, and we will hunt for shade, and now and then will hear a wish that cooler days had stayed.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

Braising or "smothering" seafood, as well as poultry and meats, is a cooking method which Creole and Cajun cooks have brought to perfection. When food is "smothered" in this manner, the cook uses very little water or broth or stock, just enough to cover a piece of meat, for example, then simmers or "smothers" it ever so slowly over a low flame in a heavy, tightly covered skillet or other pot, keeping it short of the boiling point all the while.

One of the tastiest of these smothered dishes is the justly-famed Crawfish Etouffee (translation: Smothered Crawfish). So fond am I of this dish that I don't even mind the task of cleaning the crawfish tails from the shells—well, I don't mind very much!

But, 'twas Manna from Heaven a few days ago, when a friend came by with a bag of spicy-boiled crawfish, and for Lagniappe a bag of cleaned-and-ready-for-the-skillet crawfish tails. We soon were enjoying our etouffee!

There are many versions of Crawfish Etouffee, just as there are many versions of Creole Gumbo, Jambalaya and other such dishes; but I like this dish best quickly and simply cooked in real Cajun fashion, just as they do along the bayous. Some cooks add tomatoes or tomato paste; others make a roux. That's the fun of Creole and Cajun cookery — stir it all together in the pot, according to your fancy! Here's:

CRAWFISH ETOUFFEE
For each pound of the clean, boiled crawfish tails you need a few green onions with their tops, chopped coarsely, as well as pepper and salt and parsley for garnishing, if you wish, and a little oil. And, of course, dashes of hot pepper sauce or cayenne to your taste and tolerance. And crawfish fat, if there's any, and a little water.

Pour into your heavy skillet (I use my venerable cast iron skillet) just enough oil to film the bottom of the skillet, and heat until it's smoking hot. Add the chopped onions and saute them a bit. Next, if you're lucky enough to have a bit of the crawfish fat (I was that day) add the fat, with an equal amount of water.

Add the crawfish tails, sprinkle salt and pepper over, cover the pot tightly, and let the whole business simmer or "smother" for 15 or 20 minutes. As the crawfish simmer in their own juices, they deepen in color, just as if you had added tomatoes, as some cooks do. But, I prefer the flavor of the crawfish cooked down in their own juices, adding a bit of water or white wine if needed.

Increase quantities as needed—and according to the amount of the "crawdads" you have on hand. Serve over rice. Another version along the bayous' adds chopped bell (green) pepper; and still other versions call for the making of a roux first, or for the tomatoes or tomato paste. Brennan's restaurant in New Orleans makes a delicious etouffee this way. (At least, they used to do so!)

BRENNAN'S CRAWFISH ETOUFFEE

In a heavy skillet or saucepan, saute in butter 1 cup of chopped onion, and the same of finely chopped shallots (or green onions) along with a half cup of chopped celery. Add a teaspoon of minced garlic and cook for a minute more, then stir in 2 tablespoons of flour and continue to cook and stir until golden brown.

Add 2 cut-up tomatoes, then stir in 2 cups of fish stock and simmer for 10 minutes. Add dashes of salt, pepper and cayenne, along with 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce and 1/4 cups of the crawfish tails. Cook slowly for 15 or 20 minutes, stirring from time to time. (4 servings)

Note: If you're peeling the crawfish tails yourself, be sure to use some of the fat (the brownish thick fluid) from the heads, squeezing the heads slightly for that extra Cajun flavor.

FISHIN' Y'ALL

By Jim Maness

Gnot those gnats again!

It's time to go fishin' y'all. Well, it has finally happened. I just knew that if I kept writing about other things, instead of fishin', that someone would get upset. It has taken a long time, but I think that I have finally stepped on the wrong toes.

There has been an organized protest in front of my home for several weeks now, and the end of the protest does not seem to be anywhere in sight. My only hope is that the weather will warm up real fast-like and the protesters will leave town.

I have never seen so many angry protesters in one place in my life. I mean they are big-time angry. They bite, scratch and otherwise create havoc on living conditions. The SPCG has declared a moratorium on the turtle for alleged cruelty to gnats.

That's right, the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Gnats is picketing me for instructing readers how to filet gnats. Well, I guess you can't please everyone.

The fishin' has been between non-existent and lousy, so I need to clear up a few problems that have occurred from my instructions over the past few weeks. The first problem is that I have not given out any recipes for gnat filets. However, in view of my picketing problems with the SPCG, I have decided to forego any gnat recipes.

If any readers have any recipes for gnat filets, I will be happy to place them in my column.

The next thing that needs to be cleared up is the instructions that I gave readers as to how to check your outboard motors in the bath tub.

The major objection, in my opinion, is that a bath tub does not have a proper place to crew down your motor to keep it from sliding around. Also, it takes a long time to let all of the water drain out of the bath tub after each use.

Certainly you gotta' have fresh water each time you start your motor cause you wouldn't wanta' mistreat your outboard, would ya? Anyway, to properly address these objections I asked different fishin' buddies what would be a better place to start your outboard motor when you can't go fishin'.

Since two of the major problems with using the bath tub to test your motor are the lack of rapid drainage and a proper place to hang the motor; consideration had to be given to solving those problems first.

After a whole bunch of engineering discussions involving higher mathematics (anything above $2 + 2 = 4$), the unanimous decision of the fishin' buddies is to use the toilet tank. Look at this thing logically: pulling one handle allows the water to drain in a hurry, and the straight back of the tank allows firm attachment of your motor—right?

So now that we have solved some of the most important problems facing us today, maybe someone can tell me where the fish are biting beside the fish market. The salt content of the Sound is minus negative zero. That means that the water is somewhat fresh. If you will recall that specks need water somewhere in the range of 18 ppt, you can readily see that the specks are not happy with the present salt content of the Sound. So they are staying out in deeper saltier water.

Watch the news for the salt content of the Bay and this should tell you if a fishin' trip would be productive. Notice I said productive and not worthwhile. All fishin' trips are worthwhile.

On the fresh water scene, if you can find some clean water you should be able to catch some perch and huge mouth bass. Maybe!

Crabs are being caught along the seawall, but they are small. In fact some are so small that they are being caught in minnow traps.

This week's wonderful wise words: There is never a good reason not to go fishin'. How big are gnat picket signs, turtle?

Under-8 soccer

21-game tournament begins Saturday

The Bay Area Youth Soccer League Under-8 Division Tournament will be held this weekend starting at 8 a.m. on the St. Augustine Seminar field in Bay St. Louis.

The games will be 24 minutes each with six-minute quarters, a one-minute break between quarters and a five-minute break between halves. A total of 21 games will be played. Each team will have at least 45 minutes between contests.

DRAGONS 1, HURRICANES 0

Grady Wyly scored on a perfect pass from Michael Leonard as the Dragons held off the Hurricanes 1-0. Leonard's kick from the right corner pulled the goalie to the outside of the net. As the ball slipped past, it almost stopped in front of a wide open goal. Wyly was in the right place at the right time, tapping the ball in for the only score of the tight contest.

Stephen Boh, Kase Mitchell, Jace Ponder and Michael Leonard held the Hurricanes scoreless, sharing goalie duties. Julie and Lisa ReBoul, Brooks Breland, and Matthew Saucier provided strong defensive support as the Aqua Drilling-sponsored Dragons finished the regular season undefeated.

"It's fantastic to have nine boys and girls who play as a team and not as individuals," Dragon coach Steve Leonard said after the game.

Hurricane coach Ricky Bourgeois stated, "This was an outstanding game by both teams. We were going up against the number one team and tried to put all our effort into doing our best. It was a tough game with good sportsmanship on both sides. The Dragons are a well coached team."

Jake Pearce was named offensive player of the game for the Hurricanes. Jake Johnson and Courtney Eagan were the defensive players. Matt Barbier, Michael Bourgeois, Sean Olsen, Travis Rubio and Brandon Strong all played a good game.

The Hurricanes dedicated the contest to teammate Sean Harris who was in the hospital.

DOLPHINS 1, EAGLES 1

The Dolphins and Eagles played to a 1-1 tie in a rain-shortened contest Saturday. The game was stopped in the fourth period when a light rain turned into a heavy downpour.

Keith Herndon scored for the Eagles. Andy Breaux was named defensive player of the game with 10 saves. Kacey Koenenn and Beau Brodtmann also had several saves. Dwayne Garcia, Patrick Natal, Paul Mutter, Nicholas Berryhill and Christopher Braud all played well, using good teamwork to achieve a tie with the Dolphins.

"The kids worked real hard for this game; they wanted to do well and they did," Eagle coach Barbara Brodtmann stated. "They seem to be coming together as a team."

KICKERS 3, STINGRAYS 0

Kyle Lewis scored three goals as the Monti Electric Kickers defeated the Stingrays 3-0. His first goal came when a teammate deflected his corner kick in the second stanza. Lewis struck again to start the second half with another corner kick, followed by a fourth period goal off an assist by T.J. Koger.

The first half was highlighted by several impressive, diving saves by Will Harris.

Assisting on the offensive end of the field for the Kickers were Michael Kivlan, Jacob Higdon, Harris and Quentin Sierra. The stingy defense was anchored by Harris, Brandon Higgins and Kevin Schaumburg. Keeper duties were shared by Harris, Higgins, Koger and Kivlan.

BULLETS

Coach Don Farrar's Bullets had a bye and did not play last weekend.

UNDER-10

In Under-10 action, U-10 teams will be playing games both Saturday and Sunday afternoon this weekend to complete their season. After all make-ups are completed, the first and second place teams advancing to district playoffs can be determined.

UNDER-12 GIRLS

The Bay Tech D'Feeters, with only eight players going against eleven, beat Covington 2-0, Sunday in Slidell to improve their record to 2-2-1.

Playing on a mud covered field, Tabita Wilkerson scored on a fast break with a good pass from Kristi Ray. Ray later scored when she tiptoed the ball into the goal after the goalie missed a shot from the corner. The field was in such bad con-

Jace Ponder stops a hot shot on goal as the Dragons shut out the Hurricanes 1-0 Saturday in Bay Area Youth Soccer action. The Dragons have allowed a total of only three goals in six games. Ponder and Stephen Boh have not been scored on this season.

UNDER-14

Coach Richard Flowers' Rotary Blaze team completed its regular season with a win and a loss. Saturday, March 20, the Blaze team valiantly held the second place Long Beach team to three goals in a 3-1 loss for the final game of the regular season.

Only 10 Blaze players were able to play this past weekend due to illness. The U-14 Rotary Blaze team has completed an outstanding season with an overall record of 9W-3L-0T. Coach Flowers praised every player for a superbly-played final game and season. The Blaze team will now advance to district playoffs.

Keesler impact tops $378 mil

Keesler Air Force Base pumped more than $378 million into the Gulf Coast economy last year, according to the annual Economic Resource Impact Statement.

Keesler's local economic impact region covers Jackson, Harrison, Hancock, Stone, Pearl River and George counties.

The $378 million includes salaries, local contracts, military construction projects, health services, temporary duty costs and education impact aid to local school systems spent during the fiscal year which ended Sept. 30.

The estimated number of jobs created locally off base due to the existence of Keesler is computed at 2,169.

The military payroll was the largest single expenditure in the current report with an average of 9,000 active duty military members receiving more than $212 million last year. More than half were military members permanently assigned to the base.

These members had almost 6,000 dependents living in base housing and more than 8,200 dependents living in local communities off-base.

In addition, more than 4,200 civilians were employed at Keesler AFB. The annual payroll for civilian employees last year was more than $97 million. Most of these employees and their families live within a 20-mile radius of the base.

Keesler AFB also supports nearly 8,000 military retirees living in the Mississippi Gulf Coast area. The annual income for retirees in the multi-county area around Keesler was nearly $125 million.

Local contracts for supplies, equipment and services totaled more than $30 million. Nearly $14 million in construction projects were completed at Keesler during fiscal year 1992.

More than $5 million was spent on health needs of military members and their dependents. Another $3 million was paid by the federal government to local area school districts in the form of Educational Impact Aid funds.

First CASA class sworn in

Last Thursday, the first CASA volunteers (Court Appointed Special Advocate) were sworn in by Hancock County Youth Court Judge Michael D. Haas. Volunteers underwent a 20-hour training program at the Youth Court and will continue with monthly inservice training. The volunteers will be called on as advocates for abused and neglected children to help make certain that the neglect and abuse these children originally suffered at home does not continue as abuse at the hands of the system. There will be an ongoing need for CASA volunteers. Those interested in finding out more about this program please contact Fern Singer, CASA volunteer coordinator, at the Hancock County Youth Court for more information, 467-7945. Growers optimistic for '93 pecan crop

By Linda S. Moore / MSU Information Services

Three years of disastrous crops have left Mississippi's pecan growers ready for the prospects of a bumper 1993 crop. But major hurdles remain as trees head into spring when late freezes and heavy rains could result in another disappointing year.

At a recent meeting in Biloxi, Southeastern Pecan Growers agreed that 1993 should be a year to remember with a smile—as long as the weather cooperates.

"Out of the last three or four years, pecan growers have had only one good crop (1991), primarily because the weather problems," said Dr. Freddie Rasberry, extension horticulturist at Mississippi State University. "When trees have a light production year, they are able to store more energy to produce a larger crop the following year under the right conditions."

Rasberry said most southeastern states in 1992 produced only 10 to 15 percent of their pecan potential.

Travis Jenkins of Coahoma County fully expects this year's crop to reap the benefits from extra stored energy. "Since last year's crop didn't develop, the trees went into a dormancy phase. Then when the frost hit last fall, the trees had a good cover of leaves, which also helps the next year's crop," Jenkins said.

During the regional meeting pecan growers discussed the needs concerning insecticide and fungicide use.

Jenkins said he uses as much as possible, selecting systems that are taken in by the roots rather than sprays.

Randolph Smith, who owns 467 acres of pecan trees near Raymond, said most insect control is achieved by increasing beneficial insects such as lady bugs. He attracts these insects by growing clover and vetch in the orchards.

For Mississippi, a good crop is 6 million to 8 million pounds. The 1990 crop yielded 2.2 million pounds, the 1991 crop weighed 7.5 million pounds and 1992 was only 1 million pounds. Texas and Georgia lead the country in pecan production.

Big B states earnings

Big B Inc. announced record sales and earnings for both the fourth quarter and the fiscal year that ended Jan. 30, 1993.

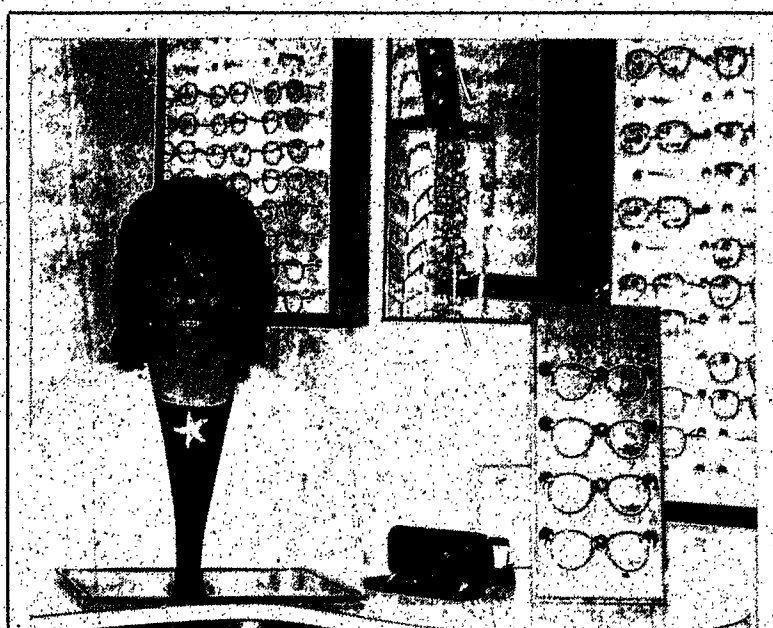

Earnings for the year rose 40.7 percent to $9,205,000 from $6,542,000 in the prior year, while earnings per common share rose to $1.20 from $.86.

For the 14-week fourth quarter, earnings rose 34.2 percent to $4,382,000 from $3,263,000 in the comparable prior year quarter. Earnings per common share rose to $.57 from $.43.

Sales topped the 1/2 billion mark for the first time, reaching a record $502,712,000 up 3 percent from $487,890,000 in the prior year.

For the fourth quarter sales rose 5 percent reaching $146,916,000 as compared to $139,966,000 in the comparable prior year period.

SIFT

Teachers sought for summer fellowships

Organizers of the 1993 Summer Industrial Fellowships for Gulf Coast Teachers (SIFT) are seeking teachers and industries to participate in this year's program.

SIFT's goal is to improve the quality of education along the Mississippi Gulf Coast by linking local businesses and government agencies with area teachers for summer employment.

This program seeks to enhance teacher's professional development; improve classroom coverage of subjects relative to industry; and foster partnerships among education, industry and government.

Under SIFT's auspices, participating industries hire teachers for jobs related to their fields for eight weeks during the summer; however, companies are prohibited from offering permanent employment.

The program is open to elementary, middle and high school teachers in Hancock, Harrison, Jackson and Pearl River counties.

Participating industries and federal agencies must pay educators a standard weekly salary of $435. They must also develop job descriptions, interview candidates, make job offers, provide work space and equipment, supervise teachers and evaluate the program at its conclusion.

Each organization is asked to provide a mentor to work closely with the teachers during their employment this summer from June 14 through Aug. 7.

SIFT is a cooperative effort sponsored by the Mississippi Gulf Coast Economic Development Council, the Commander, Naval Oceanography Command, and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Industries interested in offering fellowships should contact the Mississippi Gulf Coast Economic Development Council, P.O. Box 4079, Gulfport, MS 39502.

Teachers interested in broadening their experiences by working in a field related to the subject they teach, should contact the NASA Teacher Resource Center, John C. Stennis Space Center, Bldg. 1200, Stennis Space Center, MS 39529, 688-2880. Deadline for submitting teacher applications is May 8.

Anderson, Sins chosen Coast Electric finalists

Ted L. Anderson II of Gulfport and Christopher Sins of Bay St. Louis are this year's winners of the Washington Youth Tour Essay/Oratorical contest sponsored by Coast Electric Power Association.

The two junior class students were chosen tops from over 80 entrants who were competing for the opportunity to represent the company.

Anderson submitted an essay on the development of a senior citizens day care cooperative. His concept was based on a real situation in which a center was closed due to funding cuts.

"Many of the elders met to discuss what actions they would take in order to keep the center open," he wrote.

"After several meetings, the group decided they would form a non-profit, membership cooperative to re-open the center. By successfully organizing their cooperative and encouraging others to join, the center has remained open," Anderson wrote.

Sins also presented a unique cooperative business venture in his winning essay. He conceived that a regional transit system could be practical and successful if formed as a cooperative business.

"Granted, the idea of a regional transit system is not new, but by being placed in a cooperative format it would provide a service to a cross section of the general population," he wrote.

His completed business plan included specifications on the travel routes, number of buses and drivers. "My business would follow the Rochdale principles affording user-members, one-vote per membership and a return in proportion to how much they use the cooperative," Sins wrote.

As contest winners, Anderson and Sins participated in the Electric Power Association Youth Leadership Seminar in Jackson March 17-19 and will travel to Washington, D.C. the week of June 6-13 for the Rural Electric Youth Tour.

Anderson is the son of Ted and Gloria Anderson of Gulfport. He attends St. John High School, is a member of the National Honors Society and plays varsity football.

Sins, a junior at Hancock High, is the son of George and Bonnie Sins of Bay St. Louis. He is a member of the student council, FCA, TSA and the prom committee.

His extra-curricular activities include football, tennis, track, water skiing and soccer.

Wendy Kingston, daughter of Alvin and Linda Kingston of Waveland, was chosen alternate. She will also participate in the EPAs Youth Leadership Seminar. Kingston is a junior at Bay Senior High.

Other finalists were Trinity Nieves, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hugo Nieves of Gulfport; and Deborah Warburton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Warburton of Long Beach.

Seniors invited to PRC Spring Fest

Science Fair poster in Earth orbit

As Columbia, the Flagship of NASA's Shuttle fleet, roared skyward on its 14th voyage into Earth orbit it carried a crew of seven and an impressive array of scientific gear.

The shuttle also carried the official science poster for the 44th International Science and Engineering Fair to be held May 9-15 at the Mississippi Coast Coliseum. The poster was unveiled by Lucimarian Roberts, Mississippi State Board of Education, and two past science fair winners from Mississippi.

The two students, Judah Friedman, a senior at St. Andrews Episcopal School in Jackson and Nan Nazaretian, a Long Beach High School senior did the honors at a new conference at the Stennis Space Center last month. The poster, with the 1993 ISEF's theme "Brain Waves," was designed by Charles Swan, an illustrator at the Stennis Space Center.

The ISEF is held annually with over 750 students competing for the world's most prestigious academic awards.
